Code of Conduct

The Airdrie Community Choir welcomes singers of all ages and ability levels. It is expected that members will:

- a) Demonstrate excellent and punctual attendance at weekly performances and all performances.
- b) Endeavour to make their personal best contribution to the musical and organizational successes of choir (i.e. both as singers and as volunteers). This will involve studying/practicing the music at least once a week between rehearsals, selling concert tickets and taking on volunteer commitments.
- c) Maintain a quiet and respectful working environment during rehearsals, especially when the Artistic Director is working with another voice part. We encourage chatting and visiting in social time before, after and during the break, but not during the rehearsal.
